AIRPORT AND GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

Federal & State Governmental Affairs

All federal FY 2025 appropriations applications have been submitted at this time. The two projects submitted were the Camp Truitt Revitalization Phase I project and the project for Lead/Galvanized water pipelines replacement within five (5) locations throughout the City of College Park. Discussions with the individual delegation offices will commence next week.

The end of the legislative session reached its apex this past week in the General Georgia Assembly lawmakers embarked on the final stretch of their 12-week session. With Day 39 falling on Tuesday, March 26th, and Day 40, also known as SINE DIE, Thursday. March on 28th. the atmosphere was charged with anticipation. This week marked the last opportunity for bills to navigate through the second chamber following their successful passage in the initial original chamber prior to the Crossover deadline on Day 28 several weeks ago. Amidst the urgency, both the House and the Senate worked late into the night, striving to clear their dockets and ensure the passage of as many bills as possible. Now, those bills fortunate enough to have secured approval from both chambers are poised for the next stage: the Governor's office. Here, they await either the signature of approval or the veto stamp within the 40-calendar day signing period, or the possibility of becoming law through executive inaction after the allotted time frame. The Governor's bill signing period ends May 8th, 2024.

SINE DIE, the Latin phrase meaning 'without a day,' marks the culmination of the legislative session, serving as the formal conclusion of the Georgia General Assembly's work for the year. As lawmakers adjourn SINE DIE, they effectively bring an end to their deliberations until the next session. In the 2024 session, the General Assembly grappled with a substantial workload, addressing over 4500 bills and more than 1550 resolutions combined between the Senate and House. The Senate and House Rules Committees played pivotal roles in managing the legislative agenda. The Senate Rules Committee added 53 tabled bills from previous legislative days to the SINE DIE debate calendar, ensuring their opportunity to be considered before adjournment. Meanwhile, the House extracted 45 bills from their consideration calendar, moving them onto the House floor debate calendar, either from the day's agenda or rollovers from prior legislative days. By the conclusion of SINE DIE, both chambers had successfully passed and agreed to 119 pieces of legislation, addressing a diverse array of issues. The House passed 35 bills and resolutions with the Senate passing 26.

Both chambers worked to agree to 59 pieces of legislation total. Among the most pressing matters of the day were discussions on a sports betting constitutional amendment, agreement on the state budget, and deliberations over homestead exemption bills.

FY 25 State Budget

The final agreement to House Bill 916, the Georgia state Fiscal Year 2025 budget, was reached in a conference committee late on SINE DIE. Initially, the House and Senate passed differing versions of the budget, leading to a series of disagreements and insistence between the chambers. Ultimately, a conference committee was appointed, and both chambers reached a consensus. The finalized budget restores cuts to the Department of Education budget, bringing it back to $15.5 billion, while also fully funding literacy coaches with a $6 million allocation and increasing dyslexia screening funds by $1.5 million. Additionally, the budget allocates $35 million for sexual assault care centers and boosts funding for women's care centers, including a $1 million increase to address maternal mortality rates. School nutrition funding was restored to $846 million, and significant investments were allocated across the state for mental health treatment and care centers. Furthermore, $35 million is designated for the transportation trust fund to support transportation infrastructure, with an additional $7.5 million allocated for LMIG funding. However, the budget negotiations occurred against a backdrop of concerning revenue trends, with reports indicating consecutive months of year-over-year revenue decline, notably in February, where net tax revenues fell by 4.3%. Overall, the Governor's FY 2024 revenue estimate projects a substantial 13% year-over-year decrease in tax revenues, marking the worst performance on record since at least 1980. These challenges underscore the importance of prudent budget management and strategic allocation of resources to navigate the potential financial turbulence ahead for Georgia.

Election Legislation

On Legislative Day 39, March 26th, the Senate floor took action on both HB 1207 and HB 974. The Senate passed HB 974 with no changes, while HB 1207 was passed with a substitute. HB 1207 is an elections bill that includes language to add proofing of ballots by local superintendents in certain elections, along with language protecting both poll workers and poll watchers. HB 974 includes language for a pilot state-wide system for the posting of scanned paper ballots, watermarked ballots, and risk limiting audits.. Both of these bills were passed through the Senate Ethics Committee with substitutes. HB 1207 received an agreement from the House on Legislative Day 39, and HB 974 received an agreement on SINE DIE.

The House agreed to SB 212, now awaiting the Governor's signature. SB 212 was proposed by Senator Burns, and the bill serves to end activities and duties of probate court judges relating to elections, and mandates all counties adopt a local election board. On SINE DIE, the House combined numerous elections bills and replaced the language of SB 189 with new unvetted language, language from HB 976 and others. The bill contains language removing the Secretary of State from the State Election Board, a nepotism clause for all election vendors, language surrounding third parties, homeless voter provisions, voter challenge language, the removal of tabulation by QR codes for ballots, timelines for tabulation of absentee ballots, chain of custody measures, and measures relating to vacancies and ballot questions.

Transportation Legislation

In the House Transportation meeting on March 25th, several bills were covered, along with an airport hangar presentation. Two bills were not heard in the meeting due to a timing conflict for the presenting Representative. HB 1491 and HB 1492, both from Representative Jasperse, were not presented at this meeting. HB 1491 is a Department of Agriculture bill, taking on the idea of a regulatory authority. This bill would extend the effective date of provisions related to that regulatory authority. HB 1492 is a bill regarding the Georgia Airport Development Authority, and it aims to expand purpose, function, and powers for this organization. Both of these bills will now not progress through this session because they were not heard, but these bill ideas can be reintroduced next year if support for these ideas remains.

In a presentation given to the committee, President Amber Clark discussed the Georgia Airport Association's members and programs. There are varying hangar demands throughout the state, with each of the seven regions needing roughly 1,400 additional spaces statewide to meet demand. This cost is estimated at roughly $450 million. The GAA also lays out the varying levels of tiers for grants and loans, some counties receiving 100% loans while other counties receive much larger grants and smaller loans. The presentation also breaks down the loan payoff program for 100% loans and for 50% loans and 50% grants. Both programs take roughly 30 years, with 2% interest, with the loan amount depending on full or half loans. The presentation then introduces the State Height Restriction Legislation for Georgia Airports. The bill, SB 236, will be introduced to begin discussion in 2025. The GAA presented several reasons why the State legislation is necessary, mentioning that there are only three states without state legislation for airport height restrictions. These restrictions are left to local governments, and decisions can restrict or reduce operations into airports. Additionally, there is not a collective tool utilized to help local governments and airports in understanding the required area for protections. The presentation closed by saying the GAA Airspace protection subcommittee will have influence over this bill and soliciting a height restriction study for Georgia Airports.

CITY CLERK

Swearing In – New Police Officer

We have another member who has joined the College Park Police Department. The Office of the City Clerk had the honor of swearing in another great addition to the City of College Park. Officer T. Moorer is the first officer sworn in by the City Clerk for 2024. It is always an absolute pleasure to officially welcome new members to the city who are truly here to serve.

One Meeting Software Update

The Office of the City Clerk along with the Chief Information Officer met with representatives from Granicus regarding the concern of implementing the new meeting management system One Meeting. The representatives stated that implementation will not be as soon as the leadership team was expecting. Overall implementation, which includes onboarding and training, will be completed by the end of this year and even into early 2025. Until that time, the current meeting management system will still be available and is not expected to be obsolete until 2026. The Chief Information Officer is in communication with Granicus to potentially move forward on the voting module which would allow City Council Members to cast their vote electronically instead of verbally.

District 3 Listening Session

Georgia Municipal The Association (GMA) held its Spring District 3 Listening Session at the GMA headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. During this time, mayors. councilmembers. city clerks, and other municipal figures gathered discuss the latest developments regarding adopted recently legislation, current trends and needs of community. Specific topics included: Service Delivery Strategy (SDS) steps. which noted that the ten-year cycle of review does not change and timelines for negotiations are standardized;

and Flexible Penny Local Option Sales Tax (FLOAT) which noted that if your city has the Municipal Option Sales Tax (MOST) then your city is not eligible for FLOAT and vice versa. As a whole, most of the municipal leaders in attendance agreed that housing is an overall issue in their cities, specifically affordable and housing options. More of these discussions will be had at the GMA Convention that is being held this summer in Savannah, Georgia.

Records Requests

The Office of the City Clerk has been steadily maintaining the onslaught of records requests both internally and externally. Although it is our highest intention to provide all records within a three-day period, that unfortunately is not always the case. In addition to the day-to-day operations, record requests account for about 50% of the tasks that MUST be completed by staff to avoid any legalities. As the official record keeper for the city, the Office of the City Clerk does not create new records per se, however, we do maintain the records that are received by staff and elected officials. If a department, staff member, or elected official should need a record or information that is in our possession, we are pleased to oblige. It is likely the information that is often requested is available, however, it may not be in the preferred presentation for the requester. In any event, the Office of the City Clerk seeks to strive for quality and is constantly working to assist staff, residents and elected officials with providing available records and information within our possession.

Gateway Center Arena

The Gateway Center Arena@College Park hosted a total of eight NBA G-League home Games and the championship game for Georgia Athletic Coaches Association (GACA/GBCA). The Skyhawks closed out their '23-24 season winning four (4) of eight (8) home games in March, giving a very valiant effort that put them so close to making an appearance in the playoffs. Most noteworthy, the Skyhawks sold out 4 of 8 games this month with a total of 10 sell out games this season! As always, the Arena staff enjoyed hosting the Skyhawks Organization during their '23-24 NBA G-League season.

One of the biggest highlights of The Skyhawks' season is their fan experience known as "The Court of Dreams" which allows groups to play on their court and then return that night for the game — most often, the groups are youth teams from underserved communities. "The Court of Dreams" that stood out this month hosted patrons Jefferson Park Rec Center on 3-9-24 which featured the championship game between Main Street

Academy vs. KIPP Academy. The parents, cheerleaders, and the players were well organized and had so many emotions as the game went on. The event was a huge success, and it was due to the great partnership we have with the Skyhawks' staff. Fan experiences like these speak to the heart of the College Park Skyhawks' organization. The team that calls the Gateway Center Arena home, and all that they do to connect with the surrounding local community and the wonderful way their outreach efforts incorporate our venue. Go Skyhawks!

The Court of Dreams

There is a lot of work behind the scenes that goes into maintaining an NBA regulation Arena, much of it is compliance with NBA operations regulations and NBA security regulations. The Arena Team must be knowledgeable and stay prepared for frequent audits from NBA league compliance officials. Currently, the Gateway Center Arena@ College Park is "THE" top-ranking Arena out of 28 other arenas in the NBA regarding operations & security! Kudos to the Arena Team! As we look to the future of this premier venue, we are working with the Sales and Marketing staff to strategize and plan innovative ways to market the Gateway Center Arena to new potential clients and to attract new types of business.

Community Outreach

The College Park Police Department supported the Department of Recreation & Cultural Arts during its annual Easter Egg Hunt.

Ward 3 Town Hall Meeting

Chief Rogers provided an update on Ward 3 crime stats, and initiatives or future projects the police department hopes to address in the next few months.

Ward 3 accounts for 50% of the crime conducted in the city. To help reduce that number we have reopened the Godby Rd police precinct. Patrol shifts have been operating from the precinct since February to allow for faster response times, the ability to start patrolling assigned areas without traveling from the north end of town, and an increase in police presence along the Godby Rd and Old National Hwy corridor.

Along with the Uniform Patrol Division, the Traffic Unit, and the Crime Suppression Unit spend 95% of their efforts proactively enforcing city, state, and federal laws along the Old National Hwy and Godby Rd corridor. Since January 1, 2024, there have been 162 arrests made for traffic, drug trafficking, family violence, aggravated assaults, and others along the Old National Highway and Godby Rd corridor.

Public Safety Joint Collaboration

The College Park Police Department Special Operations Division, in collaboration with the MARTA Police Department, conducted a joint operation on Thursday, March 28th, 2024, targeting street-level crimes around Old National Hwy and Godby Rd. The operation included enforcement by uniform and plainclothes officers. These officers conducted high visibility directed patrols and surveillance at the MARTA bus stops, businesses, apartments, & hotels in the area.

Thanks to our officers' collective efforts, we made 46 cases and eight arrests. These cases ranged from traffic violations to the apprehension of wanted offenders and the discovery of controlled substances to confiscating weapons. This successful operation is a testament to our commitment to your safety.

PUBLIC WORKS

Building and Grounds

Our Park Attendants are in full affect and rental requests for our Pavilions have begun. Management is extremely happy with this cluster of new hires. We currently have two more applicants that are being processed through Human Resources, which will complete our requirement of six Park Attendants.

As previously stated, this team is dedicated to enhancing the aesthetics of our city. Their task is ongoing care for our city facilities and grounds as it relates to tree trimming, pruning, shrubbery removal and lawn maintenance, in addition to ensuring the safety, cleanliness, and functionality of our public spaces. Look at some of the before and after transformations achieved by this team.

Our Crape Myrtles, situated along Skyline Drive, are a favored landscape selection for our city. These trees are not only beautiful but also resilient. The pruning of the limbs is necessary. A practice performed before the summer months is essential for promoting blooming. As a result, the trees will produce twice the number of branches and blooms compared to the previous year, with branches sturdy enough to support the blossoms.

Highway, Streets and Storm Water

Last year, the City of College Park honored the legacy of Lottie Miller, a local leader and activist, by renaming a street in her memory. The street formerly known as Rhodes Street will now be called Lottie Miller Boulevard. This special event was marked by a renaming ceremony that included remarks from Miller's daughter, son, College Park City officials and more. The renaming of Rhodes Street bears tribute to her remarkable life.

The Highway, Streets and Storm Water have commenced the installation of the Lottie Miller Boulevard signs making this event official.

Lottie Miller will run from Camp Creek Road all the way to Red Wine Road.

The Highway, Streets and Storm Water team are busily engaged in a range of activities. These include repairing, investigating, updating, and meticulously mapping out areas within the city. One of their primary goals is to address constituent concerns related to the distinction between homeowner property and city property. Quite often this department may receive requests for repairs, only to find out that the issue is on the homeowner's property. Before any repairs are undertaken, they ensure that all "I's" have been dotted and all "T's" are crossed.

As stated, the entire Public Works department is obligated to address the concerns raised by our governing body and citizens. Recently, the team focused on repairing a damaged catch basin located at the intersection of Skyline and Herschel Road. Additionally, they removed traffic cones from the Winthrop Road junction.

Sanitation

Spring is in the air, and our residents are taking full advantage of our April Clean-Up Month. We are busy with calls and daily pick-ups of excessive clutter and old furniture. It has been our priority to render service the day of each call.

Just a few pictures above, and leaving behind nothing but grass and concrete. Lastly, the Sanitation Division is preparing for our annual "Household Hazzardous Waste Day". This day is prepared for the community to further get rid of items and debris normally not collected. The best part of this entire month is, all of these services are offered at no additional cost!
