Dr. Adediran,

Installation was not administrative. It was approved by council. I do not understand why removal would be directed by any individual for a decision that removes a resource from the entire community. Our decision-making ability comes as a governing body and I would welcome the opportunity to hear everyone's thoughts.

The community had a chance to weigh in on the initiative at the time of installation because they were informed ahead of time and it was on an agenda. We owe it to them to give them the same if there is a change in direction.

in the interest of transparency - which we all are committed to - please add it to the agenda for consideration at the first meeting in May.

I think that should be sufficient time to get cost estimates and we can have a substantive discussion.

Thanks,

Bianca

There is no need for any changes to the wall to be made by the council. This is purely an administrative function that should be handled by the office of the city manager and staff.

Dr. Emmanuel,

Per your directive to remove the wall the department is currently seeking quotes for removal from the designer and installer, Eldorado Wall, along with contractors to provide a quote for the request. Councilman Gay did speak with me during legal review when reviewing the rock wall donation contract and expressed interest in looking to donating the wall to another entity along with our conversation that he expressed his interest in donating to a school in College Park. In order to donate the wall it would need to be preserved when removed and retrofitted for the new space. If the cost proposal is over $10,000 it will need to follow the procurement process and be put out for bid and seek approval for the cost since this is not a budgeted item. The entities, Kai Lightner with Climbing for Change and Kevin Jorgeson with 1Climb, who provided the funding for the wall are vested partners and interest in the rock wall at the Wyatt Center.
